Kratek opis predmeta razpisa:	Mama Cash supports ambitious feminist and women's, girl's, and trans people's and intersex people's rights organisations and initiatives led by and for women, girls, and trans people and intersex people from anywhere in the world. We advise groups wishing to apply to closely consider the Mama Cash selection criteria and priority. During the Resilience Fund LOI window, we are open to all applications, but will be especially focused on increasing support to self-led feminist organisations and initiatives that are resisting climate change and environmental injustices as well as those implementing alternative, environmentally and climate just, solutions. In addition, we are looking to strengthen our support for feminist economic justice groups and initiatives working towards reducing economic inequality and addressing the systemic drivers of inequality, particularly as this relates to advancing the rights and lived equity of women, racialised communities, LBTQI people, and disabled people. Mama Cash is now a fully participatory grantmaker, which means that decision-making about all of our new grants has shifted from our staff to the communities with whom we work. Our multi-part participatory process for the Resilience Fund is as follows: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. all applicants provide input and guidance on thematic issues they believe should be prioritised for funding, 2. staff screen all applications for eligibility, 3. the COM COM, our community representative committee reviews a longlist of the top applications to discuss, deliberate and make the final decisions on who our new grantee-partners will be. Vir objave:	https://www.coe.int/en/web/european-youth-foundation/pilot-activity
Kratek opisa predmeta razpisa:	The aim of pilot activity grants is to support actions which address young people's needs or challenges at a local level. The actions have a clear link to the local context and address the focus themes for pilot activities, as set out by the Joint Council on Youth. These activities should be based on innovation or on replication of good practice, have a clear youth work dimension and be based on non-formal education principles. The link between the action and the envisioned impact on the community should be clearly thought out. Pilot Activities are flexible in their format and may utilise a range of approaches, such as training sessions, meetings with experts, local workshops, local actions, visits, campaigns, workshops in schools, festivals etc. An essential feature of a pilot activity is the educational element - the EYF supports education projects, using a non-formal approach. The pilot activity can be : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An awareness raising activity: participants are informed or educated about a topic or an issue, with the intention of influencing their attitudes, behaviours, solutions or responses in their local context. At the end of the activity they can say "I have learned this" or "I am aware of that". • A Skills development activity: participants develop skills to address identified needs. At the end of the activity they can say: "I can do this" or "I have the ability to do that". • Collaborative work: participants' skills and knowledge serve as a basis to build and develop an outcome (for example a campaign, guidelines, recommendations etc.) and at the end they can say "I have contributed to the development of this or that".
